FALL REGISTRATION MOUNTING PASSES 1,500 MARK MONDAY

Largest Freshman Class in History Enrolls for Fall Quarter

Registration passed the 1,500 mark Monday, according to word from the Registrar's office. As compilation of the number of students registered has not been made, the exact figures are not available.

J. B. Speer, registrar, says that this estimate is far above the registration last autumn quarter. As all students intending to enroll had not completed their registration Monday, the final figure is expected to approach the 1,600 mark.

This is by far the largest number of students ever enrolled in the institution during any quarter. Classes are filled to capacity, many having been turned away. In freshman classes especially is this true, as the largest freshman class in the history of the University has registered.

FALL QUARTER ROTC STARTS THIS WEEK

Five Fresh Sections to Commence
With Upperclassmen
As Leaders

Drill call sounded for the first time this quarter for members of the Grizzly battalion, Monday, September 27. Five sections of freshmen reported with sophomores and upper classmen acting as file closers, instructors, acting non-commissioned officers and officers. Outside drill will last seven weeks after which classes in Military Hygiene and first aid will be held for freshmen. Sophomores will take up Scouting and Patroling and Juniors Combat Principles. Lieutenant Le Croix will instruct the seniors in the use of Howitzers.

Uniforms were issued Monday, beginning at 9 o'clock, and are to be worn to all ROTC classes and may be worn to other classes.

Books recommended by the Military department are the ROTC Manual and a reprint of the Training Regulations. The former may be secured in four volumes, one for each year of Military Science, or in two volumes, one for basic and one for advanced course men. When Training Regulations are selected in the reprint form they may be purchased at a much less price. A limited number of ROTC Manuals are on hand at the Campus store.

James Murphy, ex-'20, returned to his home in Butte Sunday after spending several days visiting in Missoula.

FANS TO HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN WHEN GRIZZLIES MEET RIVALS

Those Going Sign at Office for Seating Reservations,
Next Week

"Every student planning to go to Butte for the Bobcat-Grizzly game October 23, must sign up at the office before the 5th of next month, so that an accurate check can be made on how many seats to reserve," says Burr Smith, president of ASUM.

Six hundred seats are reserved at the present time on the west side of the playing field for Montana students, and two hundred seats for Missoula fans. The Bobcat section is located on the east side of the field.

Band to Make Trip

A special street car will meet the band and take them around town. During the intermission between halves the school bands will have five minutes each to entertain the crowd, the Grizzly band has the first five minutes.

In order to permit a large number of students to attend the game, the Northern Pacific railroad is offering round trip tickets for one way fare. According to plans, a special train will leave Missoula at 7 o'clock in the morning and arrive at Butte about 11 o'clock. The train will leave Butte about 6 o'clock for the return trip.

English Department Offers New Course in Literary Writing

Professor Merriam, head of the English department, has announced that English 72, called "Literary Writing," will be taught this fall quarter by Professor Fitzgerald, provided that at least seven students desire the course. It is a one-credit course and will be given at a time to suit those enrolled. This course is given this quarter because a number of students have refused to take Creative Writing," said Professor Merriam. "English 72 will enable students to prepare for Creative Writing." Those who wish to take this course must leave their names with Professor Merriam or Professor Fitzgerald not later than Thursday noon.

Professor Fitzgerald has taught Literary Writing at the University of Utah, besides being connected with the Boston Herald for two years. He spent last year writing for magazines and has had a story published in one of the recent issues of the Atlantic Monthly.

ART SCHOOL OFFERS LARGER CURRICULUM

"The enrollment in the Art department is larger this year than last," said Professor C. L. Riedel, head of that department. "We are holding four classes. Theory of Color and Design is a new class and the History and Appreciation of Art is somewhat new, in that it has been increased to a two-quarter subject instead of one, as formerly."

"The elementary classes will take up the study of pencil drawings first; pen and ink, and water color following, gradually working toward oil colors."

"The advanced students are working in an effort to draw the human figure; they will begin by studying their own anatomy—their wrist and its movements—you know, the wrist itself doesn't move—the arm moves at the elbow. Then they will study their facial expressions; later we will have a model."

"There are more beginners than advanced students—and more women than men," Mr. Riedel concluded.

North hall girls held their first house meeting Monday evening. Plans for the success of the dormitory were discussed and Mrs. Theodore Brantly, Social manager, spoke to the girls on cooperation.

STANFORD STUDENT VISITS UNIVERSITY

Miss Astrid Arnoldson of Stanford University was a guest of her mother, Mrs. Louise Arnoldson, of the Foreign Language department, during the past month. Miss Arnoldson is well known in Missoula, having been graduated from Missoula county high school. She was active in school affairs during her attendance at Stanford.

Although she is a major in history, having especially studied the Far East field, Miss Arnoldson has been prominent in journalistic work. She was on the Stanford Daily, formerly the Daily Palo Alto, and is this year's women's athletic editor of the Stanford year book. She expects to take up journalism after graduation.

Miss Arnoldson was awarded the minor letter for athletics for accomplishments in hockey, basketball, track and archery. She has done some work in dramatics, having taken part in the "Stanford Fiesta" in May.

Miss Arnoldson will leave Missoula today to resume her work at Stanford, from where she will be graduated in March.

DEAN COON RETURNS AFTER YEAR LEAVE

Received Ph. D. From University of Chicago During Year
1925-26

Shirley J. Coon, dean of the department of business administration, has returned from a year's leave of absence and has resumed his duties as head of the department.

Upon leaving the University in June, 1925, Dean Coon taught during the summer quarter at the University of Washington. He spent the academic year 1925-26 at the University of Chicago working for his Ph. D. degree, which was granted in June.

Montana Subject of Thesis

"Economic Development of Western Montana" is the title of the thesis written by Mr. Coon for his Ph. D. degree and which was later submitted to the committee in charge of the Hart Schaffner and Marx prize for the best book on an economic subject published during the year. The thesis has gone through the preliminaries and is now one of three up for final consideration by a committee composed of F. W. Tausig of Harvard, J. B. Clark of Columbia and J. Lawrence Laughlin of Chicago. Prizes offered by Hart Schaffner and Marx in this competition are $1,000 for the first prize and $500 for second.

Since the completion of his work at Chicago University Dr. Coon has been traveling in eastern and central United States and Canada.

Clyde Burgee was acting head of the Business Administration department during the absence of Dean Coon.

MAGAZINE PUBLISHES ARTICLE BY BRADLEY

The Scientific Monthly for September, the official publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, carries in a recent issue an article entitled "How Old Is the Earth?" which was written by Dr. John H. Bradley, Jr., instructor in the Geology department of the University.

The article is well rounded and gives a forceful statement of facts which have been presented in an accurate and enjoyable manner. Dr. Bradley has developed a style, in his writing of scientific articles, which reduces cut and dried facts in such a manner that the reader does not tire of his article, no matter what the length or topic. In fact it is said that his reference to pre-historic life is presented in a living manner.

The University library carries the publication in which Dr. Bradley's article appears.

HYGIENE CLASS WILL ASSEMBLE EVERY MONDAY IN MAIN HALL AUDITORIUM

Mary Laux, head of the women's Physical Education department, addressed the 4 o'clock assembly class in hygiene in Main hall auditorium Monday, at which time general instructions concerning gymnasium work were given out. The course is a new one on the Montana campus and will be held in Main hall every Monday during the fall quarter. Attendance is compulsory for freshman and sophomore girls, and no regular gym classes will be held on that day.

The course, as planned, will include two lectures on personal hygiene by Mrs. A. F. LeClaire, school nurse; four lectures in corrective gymnastics by Miss Laux and four lectures on nutrition by Miss Anne Platt, instructor in the Home Economics department.

REPAIR WORK UNDERWAY IN WOMEN'S GYMNASIUM

Repair work on the women's gymnasium has been underway for the past two weeks and considerable changes have been made on the interior arrangement of the building.

Changes include the remodeling of a down stairs locker room into a class room; connection of the two upper locker rooms by a hallway; painting of walls and the repairing of floors and showers.

The four cement tennis courts, which were completed for the use of the Physical Education department last spring, are now being used by tennis class students, who meet at 9 and 11 o'clock.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA WILL MEET THURSDAY; MORE PLAYERS NEEDED

"As we have more than two-thirds of the University orchestra back this fall and many possibilities among the new students, I look forward to a very successful year," said Professor A. H. Weisberg, director.

Any orchestra instrument can be used and Professor Weisberg invites anyone interested in this course to see him in his office in the Main hall. There will be a meeting of this class Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to discuss a concert to be given sometime during the fall quarter.

COMMITTEE TO PICK RHODES CANDIDATES

Selection of Men to Go to Helena for State Exams to Be Made
Next Week

Selection of Rhodes Scholarship candidates from the University of Montana will be made next week, according to W. P. Clark of the Foreign Language department. Any men who are interested should indicate their intention of becoming candidates to Mr. Clark this week.

To fulfill qualifications for Rhodes scholarships, the candidate must be a resident in the state or a student in the state. He must be between the ages of 19 and 25 years, have qualities of scholarship and leadership, and must be strong physically. However, Mr. Clark says, this does not mean that he must be an athlete.

To Be Chosen in December

One candidate will be chosen by the state committee in December. The one selected will go next summer to England and take up work at Oxford in October.

Men who are granted Rhodes scholarships receive $2,000 per year for three successive years. "There are no limitations as to what a student may take up, and no pledges required of him while in attendance," said Mr. Clark.

Burt Teit, chosen three years ago, was the last University of Montana man to receive appointment for Rhodes scholarship.

MONTANANS RECEIVE APPROVAL IN SOUTH

Orchestra Organized On University
Campus Is Given Boost
In Asheville Paper

Montanans, a jazz orchestra organized on the campus in 1924, with F. C. "Peewee" Alden, '27, as pianist-director, is being well received in Asheville, North Carolina, as the Beverly Hills orchestra, according to that city's paper.

Their write-up ran as follows: "The Beverly Hills orchestra, 'The Montanans,' who have become well known during their short stay in Asheville through their 'jazz concerts' given in the Patton avenue offices of Beverly Hills, have been engaged by Grove Park Inn to play for the weekly dance held Saturday evenings at the famous Asheville hotel. They will continue to devote their time to Beverly Hills, however, playing for the Inn on Saturday evenings."

Big Hit in South

"From the start the orchestra has proved a social success in Asheville, bringing Beverly Hills officials favorable comment from many of Asheville's patrons."

"Prior to their engagement with Beverly Hills, the five young men toured Europe, Asia, China and Japan. They are said to be the only group of young Americans specializing in 'modern American jazz music' to have ever appeared before the nobility of China and the royal aristocracy of Japan. And not one of the youths is over 23 years of age."

The orchestra is composed of five pieces. Four of the musicians formerly attended the University of Montana. They are F. C. "Peewee" Alden, piano; R. S. Allured, saxophone; E. W. Bailey, violin and trombone; W. E. Niles, drums.

SALES RECORDS SHATTERED; SAYS MANAGER MCCULLUM; STORE STARTS SIXTH YEAR

Five years of success and now starting on its sixth, the ASUM store had the best day in its history yesterday, according to manager Morris McCullum.

Every student enrolled in the University has a voice in the management of the store, and any suggestions to aid the manager will be welcome, McCullum stated. The profits from the store go back indirectly to ASUM, but at present they are being placed in a sinking fund for a new union building such as some of the larger schools in the east have.

The books of the store are audited twice a year, on June 31 and on December 31. The statement from the last auditing will be published soon by the manager.

NORTH HALL RESIDENTS ENTERTAIN AT FIRESIDE

More than 150 freshmen attended the fireside at North hall Friday, September 25.

Dancing to the music of Sheridan's orchestra was the chief entertainment from 8:30 to 11:00 in the dining room and east parlor of North hall. Balloons and whistles were given as favors.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Clapp, Dean Harriet Sedman, Mrs. Theodore Brantly and Mrs. Belle Turner were the chaperones. Mrs. Brantly says, "The gathering of freshman students in North hall Friday evening was such a marked success that it will become an annual or even semi-annual event."

CHEMISTRY BUILDING HAS MANY CHANGES

Departments Are Now Able to Care for All Students Taking Their Courses

With the addition of 100 new desks and lockers, the rearrangement of the pharmacy laboratory equipment, and the completion of the new lecture room, which will seat about 150 students, the Pharmacy school and Chemistry department are well equipped to handle all students taking these two courses. There has been some delay in setting up desks, owing to the fact that they were lost en route from the factory, and only arrived in Missoula yesterday.

The greatest advantage to be derived from the new arrangement is the increased amount of space which will be available. Altogether, more than 50 students will be accommodated in each department, besides 40 or 50 who will duplicate desk space. Some students who take both chemistry and pharmacy will use one desk and one locker, instead of two each as formerly. Laboratories will be used jointly by both departments, as will the large lecture room.

Lecture Room Remodeled

Work has been carried on all summer in the lecture room, which will occupy the whole eastern end of the building formerly occupied by the advanced pharmacy laboratory and the office and store room of the head janitor. The seating arrangement of this room is said to be an advance over other lecture rooms on the campus, as the seats are arranged in semi-circular tiers about the center of the room. This room will also be at the disposal of any groups which wish to use a room seating more than 150 people.

WAA WILL ENTERTAIN UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the swimming pool at the men's gymnasium will be the scene of a swimming party, given by WAA in honor of the freshmen women of the University. "All University women are cordially invited and urged to be present," says Margaret Sterling, president of the association.

Features of the evening will include swimming and refreshments at the women's gymnasium.

Committees who are working to make the party a success are: Introductions, Zora Gerdic; swimming entertainments, Stella Skulason; decorations, Maureen Desmond; refreshments, Elsie Brown; dinner program, Ann Stevenson; invitations, Kathleen Hainline, Elizabeth McCoy, Stella Skulason and Elizabeth Peterson.

SOCIAL FRATERNITIES PLEDGE LARGEST GROUP IN HISTORY

Freshman week has born its first fruits and early professors and students were not greatly surprised to find this first born child of the freshman mind plastered extravagantly on the campus walks Monday morning.

The freshman proclamation in response to the traditional edicts of the sophomores defining the duties of the incoming class, was short. An acknowledgement was made that the class of '30 had painted the "M" on Mount Sentinel, and were individually equipped with a green cap as a class distinction. Furthermore, they pledged themselves not to cut campus in their various perambulations about the grounds. As the first tangible evidence of the value of freshman week, the proclamation created much interest among upper classmen hurrying to morning classes. Why, they asked, should the neophytes on the campus address their proclamation to the class of '30 and sign it by the class addressed? Heretofore, the acknowledgement has been directed at the sophomores and signed by the freshmen.

The members of the Disciple church will have their first meeting of the year at a church dinner Sunday noon.

These churches have regular Bible classes on Sunday mornings. Students are invited to attend these classes and to become a part of the several organizations in the various churches.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

Periodical List Will Soon Be Compiled
For Students
Use

With 250 new books on history, drama, economics and physics, the University library is prepared to accommodate the students for the coming school year. A periodical list is being compiled, which will be ready by the middle of October, for the convenience of the faculty and students.

All reserve books are now in the reserve book room. New desks like those in the main reading room have been installed. This room will open half an hour later in the evening than it did last year, and half an hour earlier in the morning. It will also be open during the noon hour. Various members of the library staff will be in charge.

Books Donated

The following donations have been made: National Health association, a full set of the Journal of Social Science; President Clapp, The Geological Society of America Bulletin, Transactions of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, and Mining and Metallurgy; Professor E. A. F. Carey, American Magazine and Electrical World; Professor Carl Glick, Blue Book; Professor W. C. Bateman, Scientific Monthly; F. O. Smith, Science.

School of Forestry Acquires 1,500 Acres Southwest of Mount Sentinel

Montana's School of Forestry is more firmly established than ever in the vanguard of its professional work through the acquisition of a forest workshop, 1,500 acres in extent. This forest contains one of the finest stands of timber in the west and is admirably adapted to the laboratory use of the school both by reason of its location and the variety and quality of its trees.

Formal announcement of the addition of this forest to the equipment of the school was made last week by Dean Thomas C. Spaulding. The area is a part of the old Fort Missoula timber reservation, which has been transferred by the war department to the department of agriculture and is now turned over to the school of forestry under a use-permit for a term of 50 years.

A Natural Laboratory

This natural forest laboratory, situated southeast of Mount Sentinel conveniently close to the University, contains a large stand of exceptionally fine timber, typical of western Montana growth. Dean Spaulding outlines the plan for its use in general terms to make it a field laboratory and a demonstration forest and also to make it an auxiliary experiment station to be conducted in conjunction with the federal forest station at Priest river. Looming large in this plan, according to Dean Spaulding, are the two problems—first, to determine whether or not a forest area can be managed profitably for private timber-land owners in this region; second, the study of the process of regeneration of Montana species.

Established in 1878

The Fort Missoula timber reservation was established in 1878 as a source of supply for fuel and building material for the military post. Until the advent of the railway in 1883 the War department operated a sawmill and obtained its fuel supply for Fort Missoula from this area. In recent years it has not been needed by the post.

The enactment of the Clark-McNary law in 1924 opened the way for the acquisition of this tract of land by the School of Forestry. Representative Scott Leavitt interested himself actively at Washington, co-operating with President C. H. Clapp and Dean Spaulding. The officials of the federal forest service gave approval and support and now this fine tract passes to the University for public benefit.

Marion Fitzpatrick, Katherine Roach, Elsie Blair, Alice Mapes, Elizabeth Kilroy and Dorothy Nelson were dinner guests at North hall Sunday.

A Forest Workshop

ALREADY ranked as one of the leading Schools of Forestry in the United States, the Montana Forestry school has again strengthened its foothold in this section by being granted the rights on the Fort Missoula timber reservation. The forest workshop covers some 1,500 acres of beautiful timber land, located a short distance from the city of Missoula. The land was granted to the University Forestry school under a use-permit for a term of 50 years.

Dean T. C. Spaulding of the Forestry school, President C. H. Clapp and Representative Scott Leavitt were instrumental in the granting of the land to the Forestry school.

It is indeed a wonderful thing for the local school, since it will offer a much larger outdoor laboratory for those men who are taking Forestry here at Montana. It will give them every opportunity to work in the field, since the Forestry school has the right to the land. Not only that but it will be a drawing card as well as an incentive to bring new students to Montana for the study of forestry.

Everybody to Butte

THIS week the ASUM will try to determine just how many students are planning on making the trip to Butte, to attend the Grizzly-Bobcat football game which is to be held in the Mining city October 23.

If enough students signify their intentions of going a special train will be chartered. Not only a special train, but a special reduced fare will be granted all those making the jaunt. One-way fare will be allowed for the round trip. It is hoped that at least 700 students will sign for the trip.

Every member of the Associated Student body of the University should plan on this game, for after all, it is the game of all games. Grizzly and Bobcat have always been bitter rivals on the gridiron and this year will be no exception. University-College games almost always draw larger crowds than any other contest at Montana, and since the game has been carried to Butte it is anticipated that more interest than ever will be manifested.

State college students will also have a special train to Butte, so upon our arrival there we may expect much competition in the cheering section.

Help the Copper, Silver and Gold win this one big game, and—GO TO BUTTE.

College Education

SOME very interesting figures have made their appearance in a report wherein it is stated that in 1924-25 there were 726,124 students in universities and colleges of the United States. In 1900 only 65,800 people were attending. It was further stated that if the increase is maintained within the next twenty years—five college generations—practically one-tenth of the total population will have had college training.

Now this raises a question in the mind of the college man and woman, a question which must be faced and settled. That question is, "Should the standards of Universities be raised to keep the average where it is now, or should we have universal University training?"

Many contend that the standards should be raised, and that the present one or two per cent is sufficient. We are inclined to favor this side of the argument, although the question is certainly open on both sides. When too many students, or would-be students, start crowding Universities to over-capacity, the standards are bound to go down. The spirit of college, although laughed at and joked about by the public, should be preserved to those who are best fitted for it, and it should by no means be so as to include every Tom, Dick and Harry, who would be much better on the front of a truck, or on the working end of a shovel.

As we have suggested before, the spirit of college seems to be rapidly becoming commercial and athletic. Please note that we separate these two words by the word "and." It is a common occurrence on any college campus to hear the words, "When I get out I'm going to make plenty of money." Naturally everyone has an idea that money is desirable, but when college prepares primarily for that it would seem that we might as well have courses for that and that only.

We are afraid that if ten per cent of the population of the United States go to college, that this spirit of learning only to make money will become pronounced. "Money vs. Art and Culture." And most of us, down deep in our hearts, are after money, and acquire art and culture, or attempt to acquire them, in passing.

What promises to be the largest registration in the history of the University, is expected to be brought out as soon as accurate figures can be obtained from the registrar's office.

More than 1,500 students have already signed up for work at the University this quarter, and since all of the former students have not completed registration the exact figures cannot be ascertained. It is expected, however, that the enrollment will pass the 1,600 mark, which will be the largest number of students to enter the University at any one time. Classes already are filled to capacity, many being refused admission because of the crowded enrollment.

This year Montana boasts of the largest freshman class in history, more than 500 entering for the fall quarter. Former student registration is also expected to exceed that of last year, which was less than 1,200.

BEAR PAWS WILL MEET O.A.C. FOOTBALL SQUAD

Plans were completed at a special meeting of the Bear Paws, held in Main hall last night, to care for the visiting O.A.C. football team, which will arrive in Missoula next Friday morning.

No definite decision was made concerning the new Bear Paws which will be tapped at the O.A.C. game. A short discussion was held on the changing of the tapping formality.

Watch the footsteps of your elders and you will see that all the upperclassmen eat here. A nice warm fireplace awaits you at any time.

LAW SCHOOL LIBRARY BUYS NEW VOLUMSS

Prof. Charles Smith Takes Tulane Position; J. H. Toelle Replaces Him on Law Staff

According to figures obtained from Miss MacMurry, librarian at the Law school, 593 volumes have been added to the library. These books are just off the press and make a valuable asset to the already extensive library that the Law school possesses. The books were purchased with the money derived from the William Wirt Dixon Memorial fund.

Dean C. W. Leaphart, head of the Law school, said: "The registration of the Law school is about the same as last year, though it has lost one of its faculty, Professor Charles Smith." Professor Smith is teaching at Tulane University at New Orleans this year. His successor is J. H. Toelle. Mr. Toelle is a graduate of Indiana University. He also received a degree in Law at Harvard. Mr. Toelle has been a professor at the University of Maine and also taught at Syracuse University. He comes here from Syracuse.

Pope Back

There has been another addition to the teaching staff of the Law school, though it is a personal addition. Professor Walter L. Pope has joined the ranks of matrimony. He married Miss Luella Platt on August 11 at Seattle, Washington. Mrs. Pope is a sister of Miss Anne Platt, assistant professor of Home Economics at the University.

take!' and goes on as if nothing had happened."

There is an interesting comparison in connection with this philosophy of Helen. Professor Pitkin, psychologist-journalist colleague of Professor Erskine at Columbia, has just completed and published a questionnaire upon "Our Moral Anarchy." The ten commandments were given relative ratings by 500 persons, including 119 girls in Barnard college, 100 graduates in Teachers' college, 90 undergraduates in Rutgers, 112 in other colleges and 27 teachers in Fresno, Cal. The comparison between Helen's philosophy and the results of Professor Pitkin's research reveals surprising concurrence in belief.

Bedtime Bunk

BY WALT

Once upon a time a quiet maid from a quieter town came to college. Gentle Gentianella was her name, and only the registrar knew it. Fair she was to look upon, but only the street car conductor saw her. She liked math and Latin and the grade curve went up. Gent. walked alone, for her Cindy pumps were cowhide boots that never knew the firm, resounding touch of a cement sidewalk. Her playmates from Woodlawn knew her not. Gentle Gentianella was bent.

One day as she wandered about the campus, counting the trees and fireplugs, she lost her way. The Pan-Dandy bread crumbs were home in the waste basket and her compass was cracked. She couldn't cry, there were students about; she couldn't shout, they might hear her. Lost! Gentianella travelled in a circle, round and round the oval, thinking always that she was going south.

Now there was a certain Raji, Merton, a Kappa Kake Kutter, whose ways were known to co-eds, but not to the Dean. He noticed her strange movements and possibly her rare, half-hidden charms, from his ambush, the plush seat of his foreign buggy. Gallantly he hustled up to her and chivalrously dragged her into the waiting hack. All day he toiled through the streets and crowds of co-eds watched from behind one another, and sighed.

That event made the maid. Gentle Gentianella decorated every affair. Men bragged boisterously of a favored glance. Sororities offered her free board and room, but the neighbors' children from Woodlawn—lived unhappy until Gentle Gentianella graduated.

Verna Shugard spent Thursday and Friday at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

TEMPLARS AND SIGMA KAPPA HOLD LEAD IN SCHOLARSHIP

Sigma Alpha, Kappa Delta
Second Best in Averages for Year

Templars, with an average of 25.03 grade points, led the fraternities in scholarship for the spring quarter and Sigma Kappa leads the sororities with an average of 26.09 grade points. Sigma Alpha, with an average of 19.77 grade points, and Alpha Delta Alpha with 19.02 grade points, were second and third; Kappa Delta with 23.54 grade points and Alpha Xi Delta with 22.30 grade points took second and third among the sororities.

Templars Lead for Year

Figures for the three quarters show that Templars and Sigma Kappa led the fraternities and sororities in the year's average with 21.38 and 24.23 average grade points respectively. Sorority women on the average lead fraternity men in the year's average. The average for the total number of men and women places the women ahead of the men again.

The following is the official record of averages released by the Dean of Men:

Fraternities:	Spring	Year
Templars	25.03	21.38
Sigma Alpha	19.77	19.02
Alpha Delta Alpha	19.02	18.15
Phi Sigma Kappa	17.12	15.23
Sigma Chi	16.57	17.53
Sigma Phi Epsilon	16.52	13.05
Phi Delta Theta	15.69	17.06
Alpha Tau Omega	15.27	14.26
Sigma Nu	13.79	13.46
Sororities:	Spring	Year
Sigma Kappa	26.09	24.23
Kappa Delta	23.54	20.44
Alpha Xi Delta	22.30	21.31
Phi Beta	20.97	20.93
Kappa Kappa Gamma	20.69	20.56
Kappa Alpha Theta	18.15	18.21
Alpha Phi	17.91	19.95
Delta Gamma	16.07	16.23
Alpha Chi Omega	14.76	15.99
University:	Spring	Year
Total University men	18.58	17.38
Total Univ. women	20.84	20.32
Fraternity men	17.64	16.70
Sorority women	19.93	19.67

Total University men and women made 19.65 average grade points for the spring quarter and 18.71 for the year. This is well above the general scholastic standard set by the dean's conference as the average number of hours carried by all students is lower than these figures.

Some freshman figures for the spring quarter reveal that Craig hall made an average of 20.04 grade points, North hall 18.55 and South hall 17.54.

FORESTRY CLASS LARGE SAYS DEAN SPAULDING

Enrollment in the School of Forestry has reached 55. Of these 18 are from Montana. About 20 of the others are entering with advanced standing from other Universities.

The increased enrollment is already taxing the capacity of the new building, and T. C. Spaulding, Dean of the school, says there is no class room to accommodate the freshmen. Additional student instructors and assistants are to be appointed, and it is possible that some of the classes, particularly Surveying, will have to be sectionized.

SMITH INTRODUCES EFFICIENCY CABINETS

Professor F. O. Smith of the Psychology department announces that he has introduced a new and more efficient storage place for his laboratory and experimental apparatus. This summer a closet was built in his office in which he keeps his apparatus according to classification. On one shelf are instruments of vision, another holds those of reaction, and another holds the instruments of hearing.

Previous to the time that this shelf was built all the apparatus was thrown into a box and kept in a disorderly jumble. Lost time and confusion was the result of a search for some particular piece of apparatus which, with the new cabinet, will be successfully eliminated.

Many Benedicts Among Students During Summer

Numerous marriages among students and alumni of the state University took place this summer. One of those of greatest general interest on the campus was that of Winifred Matthews to Robert Morris on Sunday, September 19, in Helena. Mrs. Morris is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Morris was an instructor in the Education department last year, while completing work on an M. A. degree in mathematics. He is returning to the campus this year as assistant professor in the Mathematics department. The couple are making their home in the Humble apartments.

A marriage which caused much surprise among the students was that of Margaret Terry of Stevensville to Fenton Stone at San Antonio, Texas, September 1. Mrs. Stone is well known in Missoula and on the campus. Mr. Stone is a member of Phi Delta Theta, and is working in San Antonio, where the couple are making their home.

The marriage of one of Montana's best known alumni, Ellsworth Mosby, to Miss Edith Kack of Missoula, which took place August 9, was kept secret until September 19, when Mr. Mosby and his wife departed for San Francisco, where they will live. Mr. Mosby has been city editor of the Missoula Sentinel for the past four years, and it was during his vacation this summer that he and Miss Kack motored to Fernie, British Columbia, where the marriage took place. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. O. P. Mosby, the groom's mother. After a honeymoon spent in the Canadian national parks, at Sinclair Hot Springs, Banff, Lake Louise and

GRIZZLIES WILL TACKLE OAC IN FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

Coach Schissler to Bring a Veteran Squad Against Light Montana Team

"We'll have a light but scrappy team," says Coach Frank W. Milburn, Montana's new football coach. Ten lettermen reported to Coach Milburn at the start of the season, around which the coach must build a new organization. The lettermen returning are Burrell, backfield; Ritter, backfield; Kain, backfield; Captain Kelly, backfield; Brittenham, end; Ostrom, center; Whitcomb, tackle; Vierhus, tackle; Cogswell, guard; Martinson, guard. There are only five from last year's frosh team back to help fill the vacancies left by the large number of graduates.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY GOAL SET FOR GRIZZLY BANDSTERS

Musical Organizations Will Be Divided Into Groups According to Ability

California is the goal which the Grizzly band hopes to cross this year, says Professor Albert Hoelscher, director of the Grizzly bandsters. It is Professor Hoelscher's desire to send the band to California when the football team makes the trip next month, but this cannot be done unless the band receives reduced railroad rates.

Will Have Two Bands

Two bands will be conducted by Professor Hoelscher this year, a band "1" composed of old students and the new students showing marked ability, and band "2," consisting of new men and those of lesser ability. It is Professor Hoelscher's plan to divide the band into two sections so that the men will handle selections of a type more suited to their ability, the first band taking all the heavier things in band work.

Band 1 will consist of not more than 36 members, according to the director. All other men registered for band work will be in the second group. As soon as a man shows considerable ability in band 2, he will be changed to band 1, if that body is not filled to capacity.

The first band rehearsal of the year will be held this afternoon. A large number of musicians are expected for the initial rehearsal.

Concerts to Be Given

Professor Hoelscher has planned a series of concerts to be given during the winter quarter in the Little Theater. These concerts are for educational purposes. Admission charges for these entertainments will be small. The Number one concert band will appear in the Wilma theater near the middle of October.

STUDENTS MUST RESERVE TICKETS IN MAIN HALL

"Student tickets for Saturday's game are reserved at Main hall and it is necessary for students to present coupons received upon payment of their fees in order to get the tickets," according to Mike Thomas, business manager of the ASUM.

Seating arrangements for the games have been made and the students are arranged in groups, according to their classes. The upperclassmen in one group and the women in another, the same for the other classes, the men and women are not to sit together.

The seats for the students are the regular $1.50 seats and it will be necessary for every student to have a ticket in order to get into a game.

Lois Spencer is attending Nebraska University now, but expects to return to Montana after Christmas.

Coach Romney has his M.S.C. squad going at top speed. Seven letter men and a large last year's frosh squad from which to pick his team for Saturday's fray. Watch the outcome of the Idaho-M.S.C. game as we meet both teams later on in the season.

Here's the 1926 schedule:
October 2—O.A.C. at Missoula.
October 9—U. of I. at Missoula.
October 16—W.S.C. at Pullman.
October 23—M.S.C. at Butte.
October 30—Gonzaga at Spokane.
November 6—Open.
November 13—Whitman at Missoula.
November 19—California Aggies at Sacramento.
November 25—U.S.C. at Los Angeles.

Just a glance at the pre-season's strength of the Coast conference teams:

U.S.C.	21 lettermen

Oregon Aggies	24 lettermen
California	12 lettermen
Stanford	13 lettermen
Idaho	11 lettermen
W.S.C.	12 lettermen
Montana	10 lettermen

Oregon is still an unknown quantity. Coach McEwan had 87 candidates with which to start the season.

Coach Milburn has an able staff assisting him every evening. Coach Stewart has charge of the line. Adams is aiding Milburn with the backfield and Lieutenant Hinton of the fort has offered his time to assist with the line.

FROSH SQUAD WORKING HARD UNDER COACH HARRY ADAMS

Yearlings Go Through Stiff Workouts in Preparation for Coming Games

Coach Harry Adams has been putting his yearling Cubs through some stiff workouts the last few days in preparation for their heavy season's schedule, which includes games with Washington state college frosh, Idaho University yearlings, Bozeman frosh, and also with Missoula and a number of other strong high school eleven. The Frosh have not engaged in any regular scrimmage as yet, but are being drilled in the fundamentals of football, specializing in kicking, passing, signal practice and light line scrimmage.

The Frosh are taking great interest in their workouts, a large number of men reporting for practice each afternoon, with many candidates available for both backfield and line positions, there being enough men out for the different positions to make four well balanced eleven.

The yearling squad is not composed of a number of big husky stars as in former years, but is a well matched, and probably the best balanced crew of men that have turned out for frosh football in recent years. In their workouts on the field they appear to be a smooth working group of men and later workouts will show definite development in the squad of men.

INTERIOR OF 'LITTLE THEATER' WILL BE COMPLETED SOON

"The Bad Man" to Be Given for the First Time by Amateurs

Montana's Little Theater will cater to people who sit tailor fashion unless some seats can be procured in a short time, according to Carl Glick, dramatics coach. Up to this time no seats have been located, although several sources have been investigated.

The work of interior decoration will commence within a short time, according to Glick. If present plans are carried out, the final touches will be administered to the theater in absolute secrecy. The staff plans to present the students of the University with an artistic creation as well as a play house. Orders for stage equipment and lighting fixtures are being arranged and as soon as an estimate of needs can be made, some equipment of the very newest sort will be brought in from the eastern markets.

"The Bad Man," a play made famous by the acting of Holbrook Blinn, has been secured for the first release through the courtesy of Samuel French. Mr. Glick secured the production rights for this play during the last summer season. This will mark the first time that the play has been produced by an amateur company.

It is possible that a microphone line from the KUOM studio, which is located on the second floor of the same building, will be run to an outlet on the stage. This plan would permit the broadcast of plays a feature with many of the larger radio stations of the country.

A number of people who have starred in past University productions will be back for the fall theatrical season, and according to the director, there will be a large amount of available material when the first call is issued for tryouts.

It is probable that tryout dates will be announced after the meeting of the Masquers, which is scheduled to be held sometime in the near future.

Edward McConnell has been confined to his room with a cold.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN WORKING OUT DAILY

Montana's long distance runners are working out daily on the track on Dornblazer field, preparing for the cross-country meet which is to be held at Seattle October 19.

Five or six men will be picked from the Montana squad to represent the University at this meet, and with only a short training period. The men are working hard to get into the best of shape, covering a distance of from one to three miles in their daily work outs.

The squad of men who are taking daily work outs is composed of A. Gillett, R. Davis, S. Hanson, K. Davis, L. Williams, B. Adams and L. Gaughn.

FORMER KAIMIN EDITOR WILL RETURN TO VISIT CAMPUS DURING HOLIDAYS

Bill Cogswell, 23, who was president of the ASUM and editor of the Kaimin during his college career, will return to Missoula for a short visit during the Christmas holidays, this year. Bill is working with the Hawaii Tourist Bureau in Honolulu, Hawaii, at present, and has been in Hawaii for about three years. He was there at the time of the eruption of the volcano Kilauea, and covered the story for the Associated Press.

Bill will stay in Missoula only through the holidays, however, after which he will return to Hawaii.

MISS LARSON RETURNS AFTER YEAR IN FRANCE

Magdalen Larson, former University of Montana student, who has spent the past year studying in France under the auspices of the University of Delaware, has returned to the United States and is now teaching French and Spanish in the women's college of the University of Delaware, according to a letter recently received by Mrs. Louise Arnoldson of the department of foreign languages.

University Engineer Remodels Numerous Campus Structures

Many changes have been made to improve conditions and general appearances of the buildings during the past summer, according to Tom Swearingen, who is in charge of the work.

The southern part of Simpkins hall was remodeled into a Little Theater with a seating capacity of 300. The cost of construction will be about $3,000. A new lecture room has been added to the Pharmacy and Chemistry building. It was formerly the old heating plant. This gives considerable more room and has a seating space of 125. New desks and racks are at present being installed. Also a dumb waiter has been placed in the building to save time in moving supplies to different floors. A new reading room for freshmen has been remodeled out of the former reserve book room, on the first floor of the library. It seats 35 desks which were made by the University carpenters.

Craig hall is to be refurnished into classrooms as soon as the new Corbin hall is finished. This is to be done during the winter. When paint arrives the bleachers are to receive a coat of gray.

Many minor details such as the women's and men's gym and South hall have had general repairing.

AWS Board Holds Initial Meeting

Meeting for the first time this year, members of AWS executive board decided to hold a second meeting next Wednesday at 5 o'clock, when they will appoint chairmen for the traditions and point systems committees. Representatives were asked to remind their houses that all AWS rules are now in effect.
